Some manufacturers carry vehicle manuals in line that date from the 70s. Enter the year, the model and make it of its vehicle to find the correct one. Download the manual and print if you want a printed copy. The manufacturer's manual or a specific type of maintenance, see YouTube. Video demonstrations provide guides in line with step -by -step instructions for vehicle repairs and maintenance. Make sure to follow the advice of a licensed meconic on an amateur to ensure that you are receiving instructions from a professional. You do not have to have a YouTube account or password to access the pagelicos videos. Third -party websites have available vehicle manuals. Google what you are looking for and several sites will appear on your computer screen. These often require that you register on the website or have to configure a monthly or annual subscription before you can receive information. The miniature versions of the manuals are found on some websites instead of complete manuals. They could include a limited accessories manual, partial parts diagrams or factory for only a few years. The eBay market carries vehicle manuals. Search the brand, model and year of your vehicle on the website. Prices vary and shipping usually takes a few days to receive the printed copy. Compare price andoptions with other car websites to determine if eBay is the best way to go. Public libraries Call your public library to see if the library has access to free online car repair manuals. If they do, you'll have to go to the library and register with an account to find your manual. This should be a free search service. Once you find it, print it from the library printer. You will have a printing fee, but it is usually a nominal charge. From the beginning of the history of the famous American brand, the company's engineers and designers tried to ensure that the technical characteristics of the cars always meet the needs of their owners. Thanks to this powerful, reliable and able to move in almost any condition, the brand's SUVs receive enthusiastic criticism from car owners not only in the United States, but worldwide. The history of the brand is related to the name of the talented American engineer Arthur Herrington, who after World War I, in association with the Marmon Motors company, began to develop all-terrain cars. The result of his experiments was a car, which was called the "Jeep" of the head doctor of the English abbreviation, which means general purpose. The appearance of the first "Jeeps" refers to the mid-30s of the last century. It was during this period that the U.S. military department needed a new model of the car for use in the army. The U.S. military leadership decided to hold a competition for the best car, capable of transmitting any SUV. In the competition, as a result, 3 car manufacturers participated: Bantam Company, Ford Motors and Willis-Overland, which was founded by Gene Willis. The most successful model was introduced by American Bantam. And already on the basis of its development by the decree of the United States government, its models were presented by larger companies: Willys Overland and Ford. In November 1940, the tests of the proposed models began. As a result, both manufacturers received an order of 1500 cars. Delivery of new products already started 1941. And six months later, the U.S. armed forces decided to choose one of the manufacturers, which became Willys and its MA model. In 1942, the MA model was modernized and renamed MB. The car was equipped with a Willys 77 engine and a three-speed transmission. The maximum speed of the model was 105 km/h. In total, there were 360,000 copies at that time, most of which were addressed to the Red Army. Thanks to the army jeep model, Willys Overland has become famous all over the world. In the post-war period, the company was dedicated to the creation of cars, which do not differ much from the jeep, created for the U.S. army. They were considered civilians only because they had a different shadow of the body, not characteristic of the military color of "khaki". The civilian jeep received the CJ - civilian jeep index. Officially, the Jeep brand was registered in 1950. Right then, the popularity of Willys' products began to gradually decrease. As a result, in 1953, Willys became a member of Kaiser. For the next 10 years, the company's name was John Willys, and in 1963 the company became known as Kraiser-Jeep Corporation and in 1970 it was incorporated into the American Motors Corporation (AMC), which in turn continued the production of the legendary "Jeeps". As part of AMC concern, the Jeep Corporation was formed. Since 1972, the manufacturer began to equip its cars with fully automatic transmission with a permanent wheel unit. One of the first models, which received that functionality, was launched in 1974, he debuted the Cherokee of two sports doors, and in 1974, he debuted the Cherokee of two sports doors, and in 1974, he debuted the Cherokee of two sports doors, and in 1974, he debuted the Cherokee of two sports doors, and in 1974, he debuted the Cherokee of two sports doors, and in 1974, he debuted the Cherokee of two sports doors, and in 1976, the release of the updated CJ-7, which was equipped with a removable plastic roof, as well as an open pickup truck - CJ-8 Scrambler. The car combined a refined design, excellent permeability, softness, of course, safety. Thanks to these features, the car has established new quality standards in the automotive industry. In 1998, Daimler-Benz and Chrysler announced their merger in a single company called Daimler-Chrysler, which allowed them to cover all segments of the world market. Also this year the new generation of the Grand Cherokee was introduced, which once again took the place of the leader in its segment. In 2006, the SUV commander, created on the Grand Cherokee platform and with seven seats, appears. The car was equipped with a Quadra-Drive II transmission, which allowed the torque transmission automatically to the front or rear axle of the car. In 2007, Russia created the company CJSC Chrysler Rus, which becomes the general supplier of brands Chrysler, Jeep and Dodge. All Jeep models that are created today, one way or the other are followers of the first brand cars. Each year, the company's engineers add to their models more and more new useful features that serve to improve car comfort. Especially popular in the Jeep range are Cherokee, Grand Cherokee, Wrangler and Compass models.
